The subject stated that the ANC has plans to bomb the South African offices of Intergraph, IBM and General Motors. The subject stated that the ANC was responsible for the refinery bombing in Durban, S.A. last week. The subject stated the ANC is planning to target Intergraph and IBM because the SAG computer systems are used to monitor movements of blacks, by tracking the identity card numbers. General Motors was being targeted because the SAG utilizes G.M. products for government transport and official business. The subject stated the ANC strategy is to force the U.S. businesses from S.A. and to further isolate the SAG. The subject stated the SAG is totally dependant on foreign imports and IBM is a symbol of U.S. imperialism. The subject did not give a time-table for the attacks.

The subject stated the bombings would destroy the SAG capacity to operate and give a "clear message" to the U.S. businesses to "pull-out" of S.A.

The CI stated a former ANC client had contacted CI on behalf of the subject. The subject needed assistance in an unrelated immigration matter. The subject telephoned the CI and scheduled a meeting in the CI's office on 6/24/86. The subject is reported to have a Masters Degree. The subject is a Black male. The CI believes the subject is a conduit of information for the ANC office at the United Nations, New York. The subject was granted political asylum in the United States less than a year and one-half ago. The subject resides in the Washington, D.C. to New York "corridor". The subject is possibly a visiting scholar, or present in the United States on student (F-1) status. The subject avoided giving the CI an occupation, but was able to afford the CI's consultation fees of $150.00 per hour. The subject is active speaking at public assemblies against apartheid and the SAG. The subject is alleged to have received media/press attention. The subject has an African sounding name.

The subject specifically mentioned the ANC targeting of IBM, Intergraph and General Motors. The subject also mentioned the ANC targeting of three main refineries, one identified as "Royal Dutch Shell". The other two refineries were identified, but the CI could not remember the names. The subject stated that the ANC's "overall strategy" was to target U.S. business interests in S.A. Specifically, U.S. companies that were supporting "institutional apartheid". The CI stated the subject never mentioned anything about the ANC targeting of the AmEmbassy or facilities. But the CI had "a clear impression" that American citizens were going to be endangered.

The CI stated that he has been studying the S.A. history for a number of years and is considered to be an immigration specialist on S.A. refugees. The CI stated the ANC strategy of targeting U.S. businesses made "complete sense" and is considered a "sound strategy".

The CI stated the subject is scheduled for another appointment during the week of 7/6/86 and the CI was going to attempt to obtain further information which he would provide to the reporting agent. The CI was also going to attempt to ascertain the identity of the ANC source at the United Nations.

The CI was shown a list of names by the reporting agent and is not the CI's client by name recognition only. The CI was asked that if the reporting agent could compile a list of names of possible suspects believed to be the subject, would he assist the
